Dad goes to the basement.
He has work to do.
I am working, too.
I am working with my tools.

I am tired of working.

I hear my dad walking up the basement stairs.

He calls me.

He needs my help.

The door is stuck.

I will help.

I twist and turn the doorknob.

I can't open the door.

I say, "I will get keys.

Keys will open the door.

They are hanging in the hall."

I climb up and get them.

There are many keys.

I try them all. Oops!

One breaks off.

"Don't worry, Dad," I say.

"I will call 9–1–1.

Stay there.

I'll be right back."

I say, "My dad is locked in the basement and can't get out."

I dial 9-1-1 on the telephone.
A very nice 9-1-1 lady answers the phone.

The 9–1–1 lady asks me

my telephone number.

I tell her.

She asks what my address is.

I know my address, too.

I tell her.

I tell Dad that help is on the way.

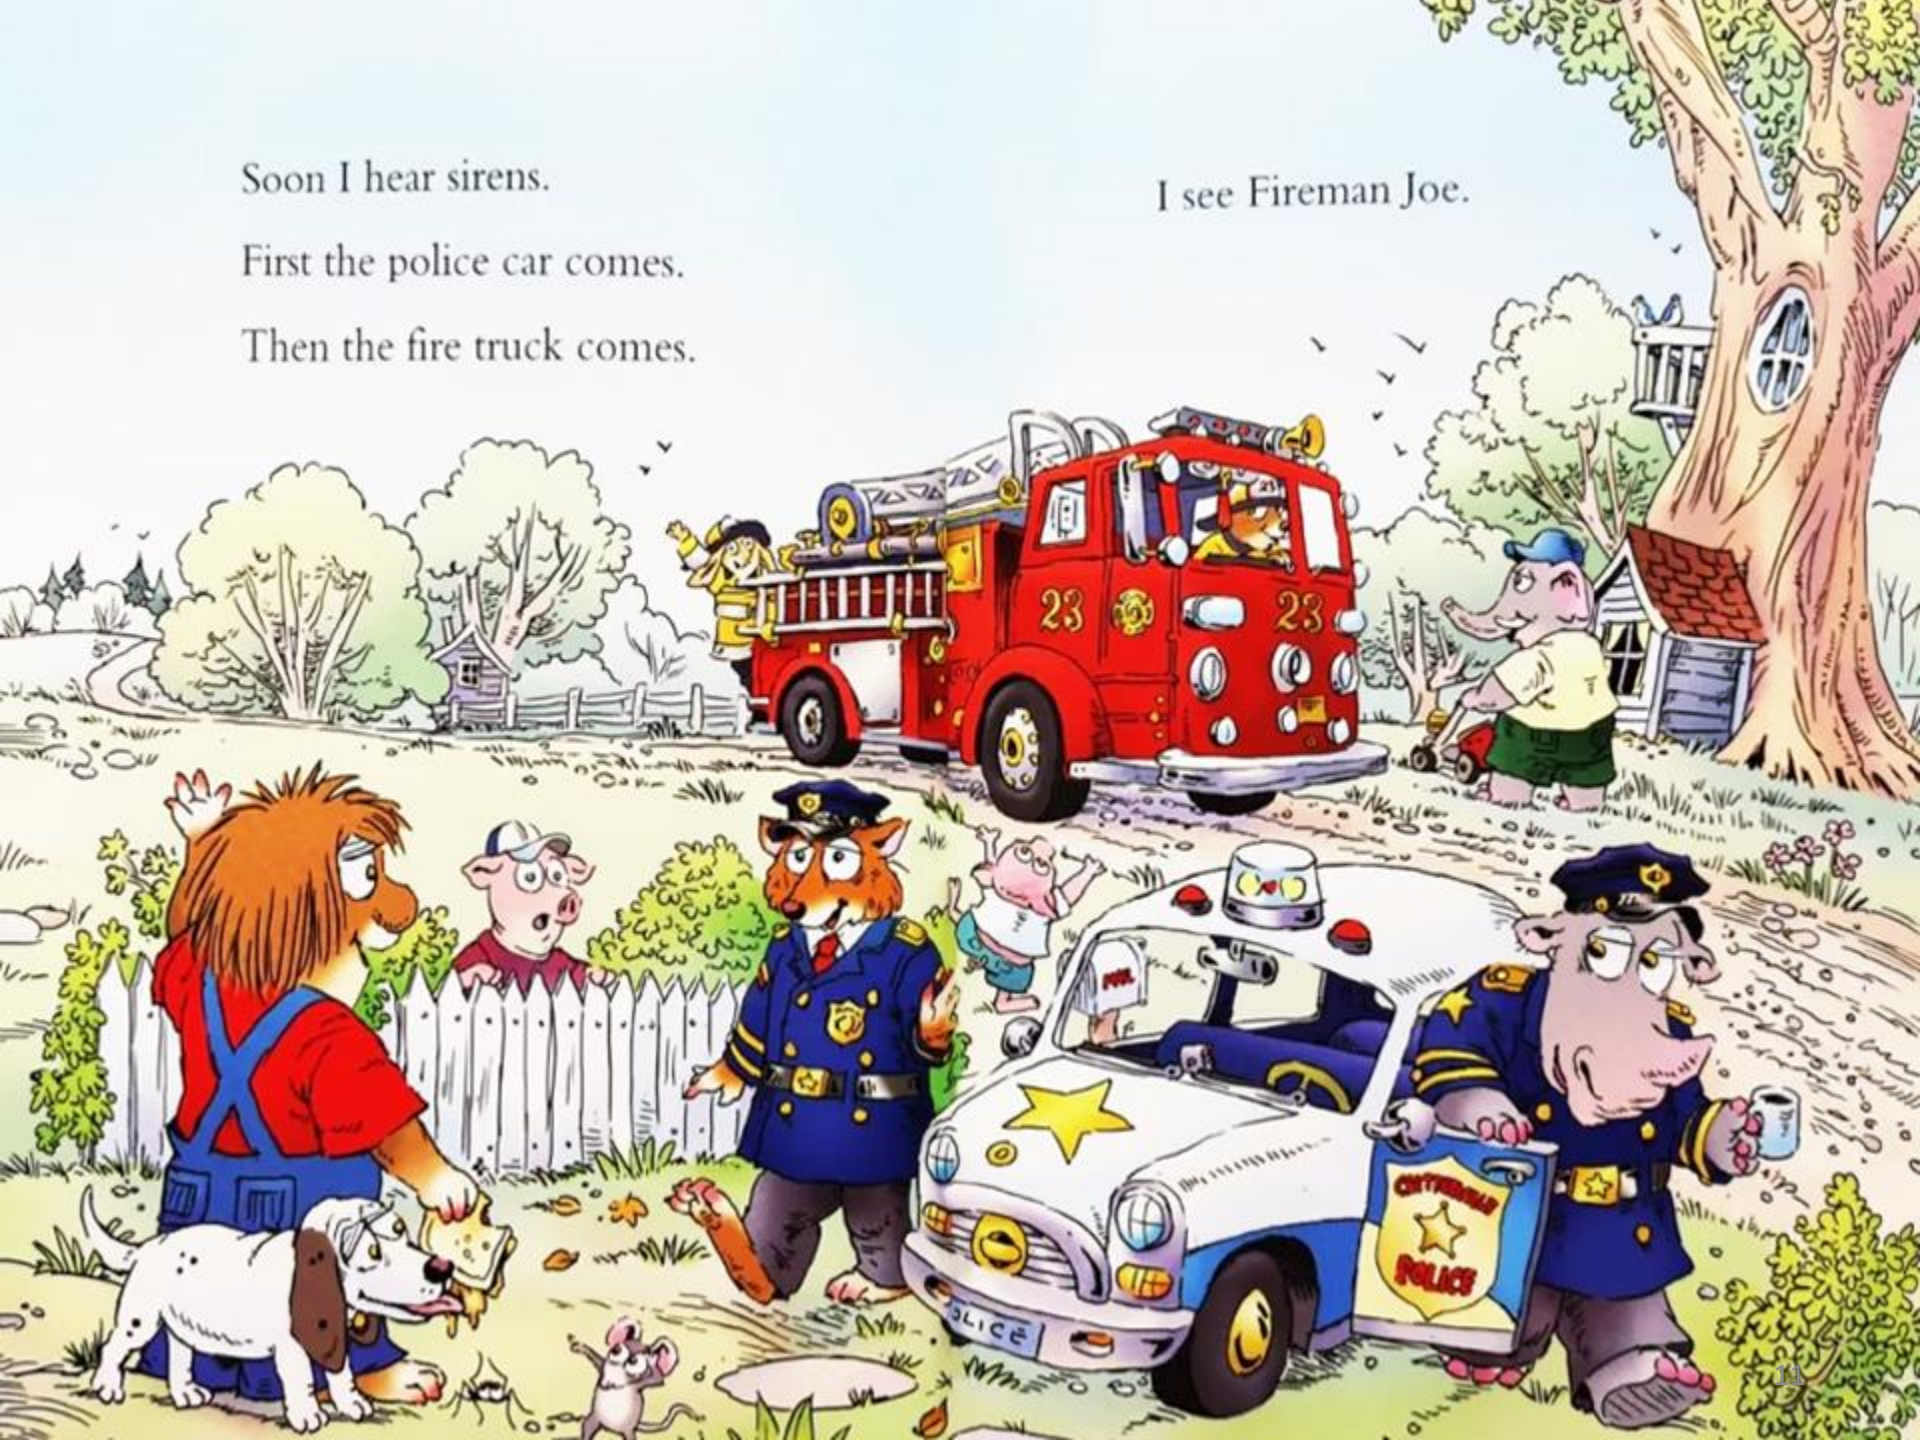
Suddenly, I am hungry.

I go to the kitchen.

I make a snack to eat

until help arrives.



Soon I hear sirens.
First the police car comes.
Then the fire truck comes.
I see Fireman Joe.

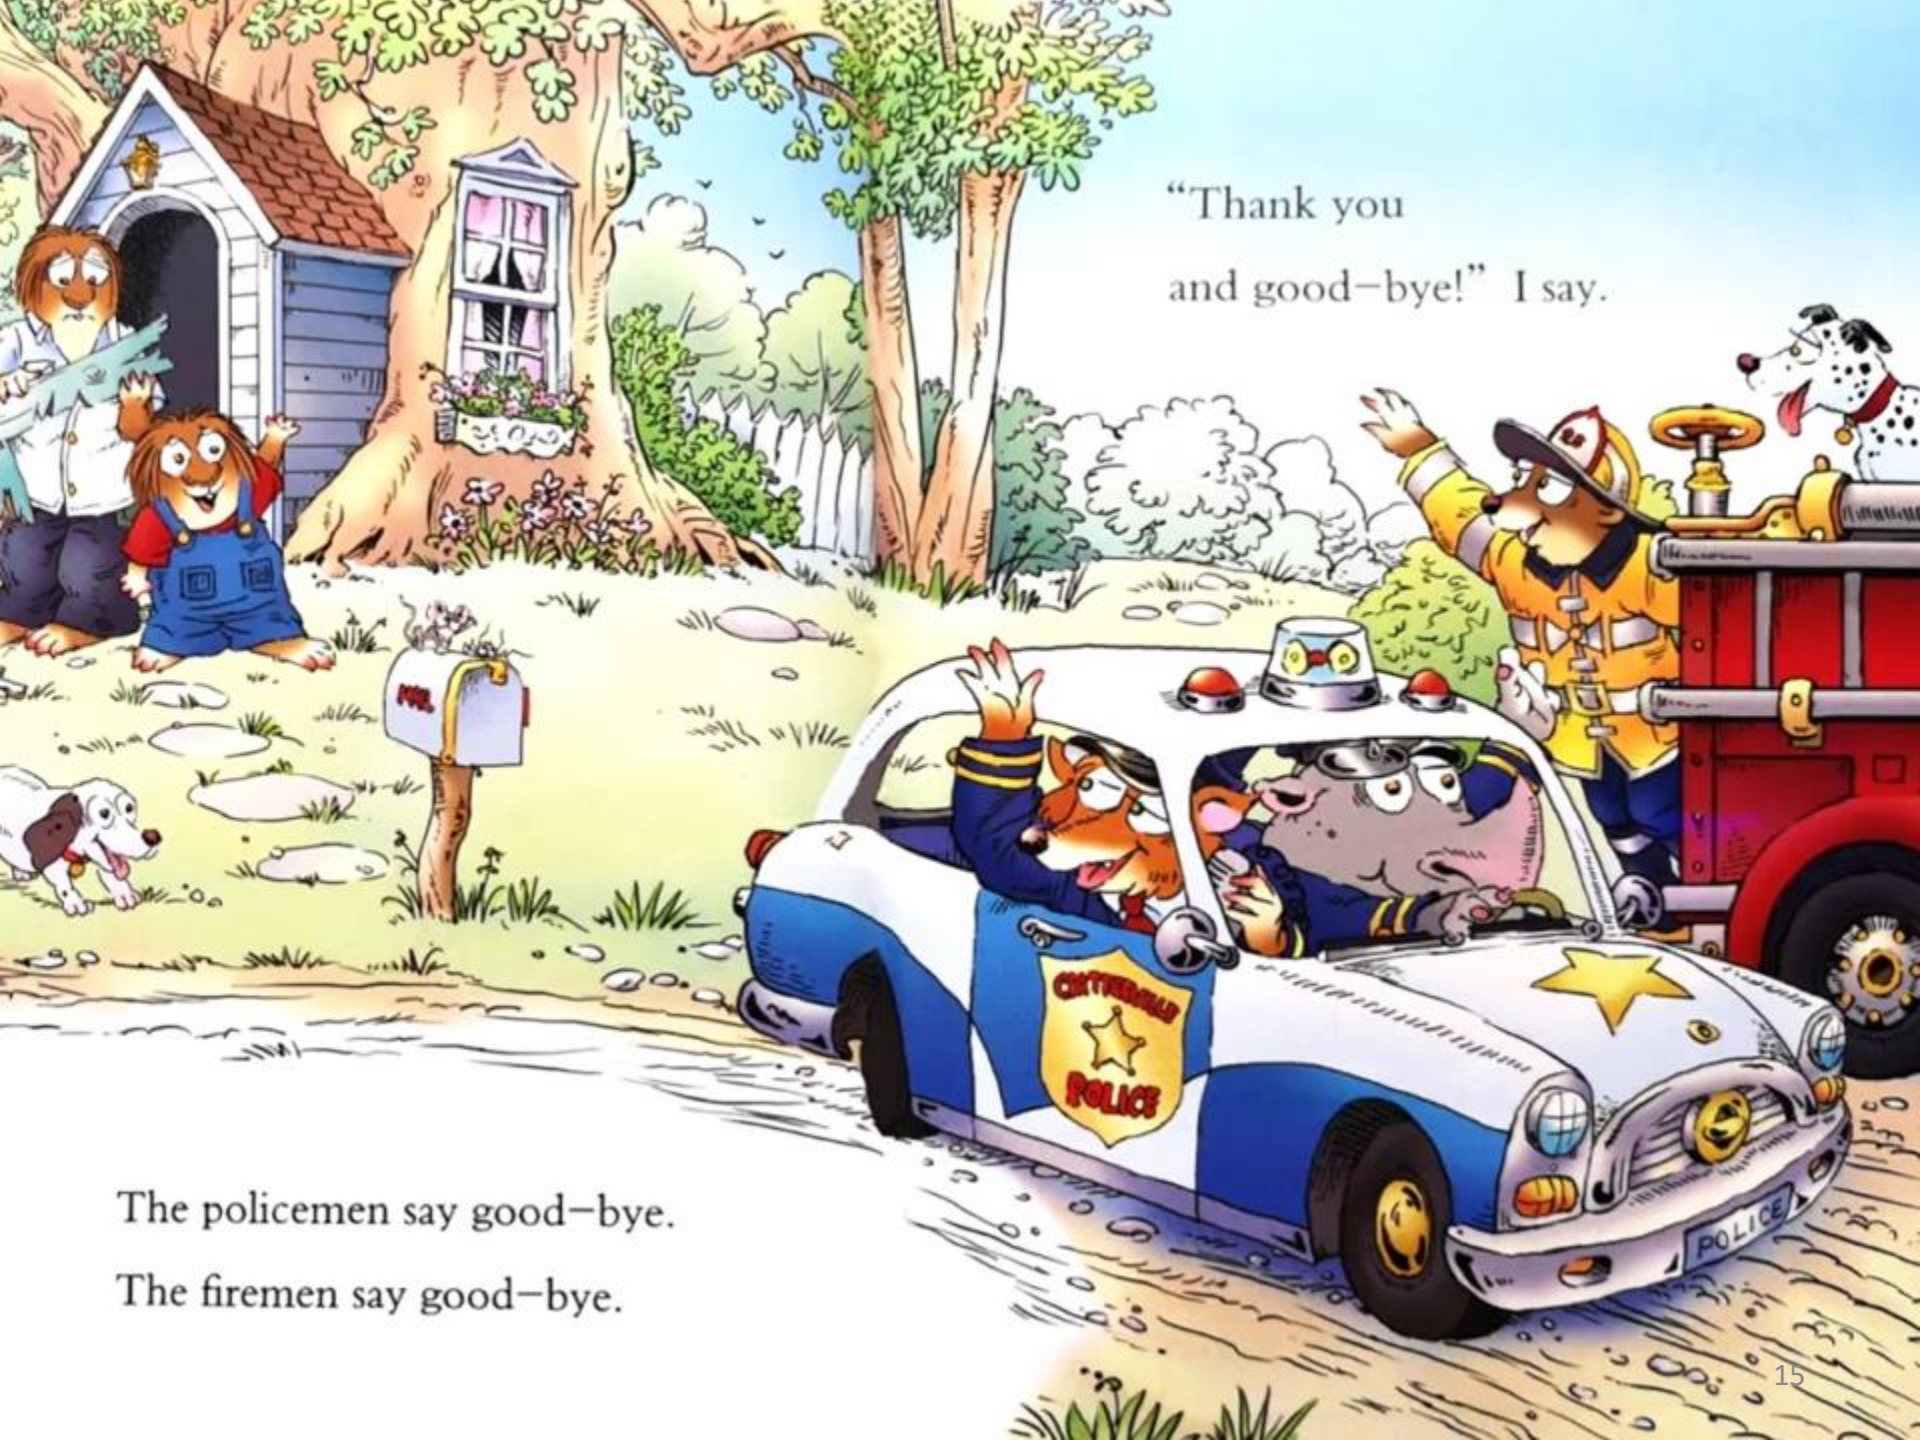
where to go.

Fireman Joe tells Dad
to stand back.

Fireman Joe takes a big ax.
He breaks down the door.

Hooray! Dad is safe!

Everyone helps take the broken door outside.



The policemen say good–bye.

The firemen say good–bye.

Dad says I am a hero.

I just called 9–1–1.

Dad goes to the basement.
He has work to do. I am working, too.
I am working with my tools.
I am tired of working.

门被锁住了。
我要帮我爸爸。我扭动球形的门把手。
我打不开门。
我说"我去拿钥匙。钥匙可以打开门。钥匙挂在门厅了。"

I climb up and get them.
There are many keys.
I try them all. Oops! One breaks off.

我给他们领路。Joe告诉爸爸往后退。
Joe拿了一个大斧子。他把门弄下来了。
Hooray! Dad is safe!
Everyone helps take the broke door outside.

大家帮忙把坏了的门拿到外面。

The policemen say good-bye.
The firemen say good-bye.
“Thank you and good-bye.” I say.
警察和我们说再见。消防员也和我们说再见。
“谢谢你们，再见啦。”我说。
Dad says I am a hero.
I just called 9-1-1.
爸爸说我是个英雄。
我就只是拨打了911呀。
