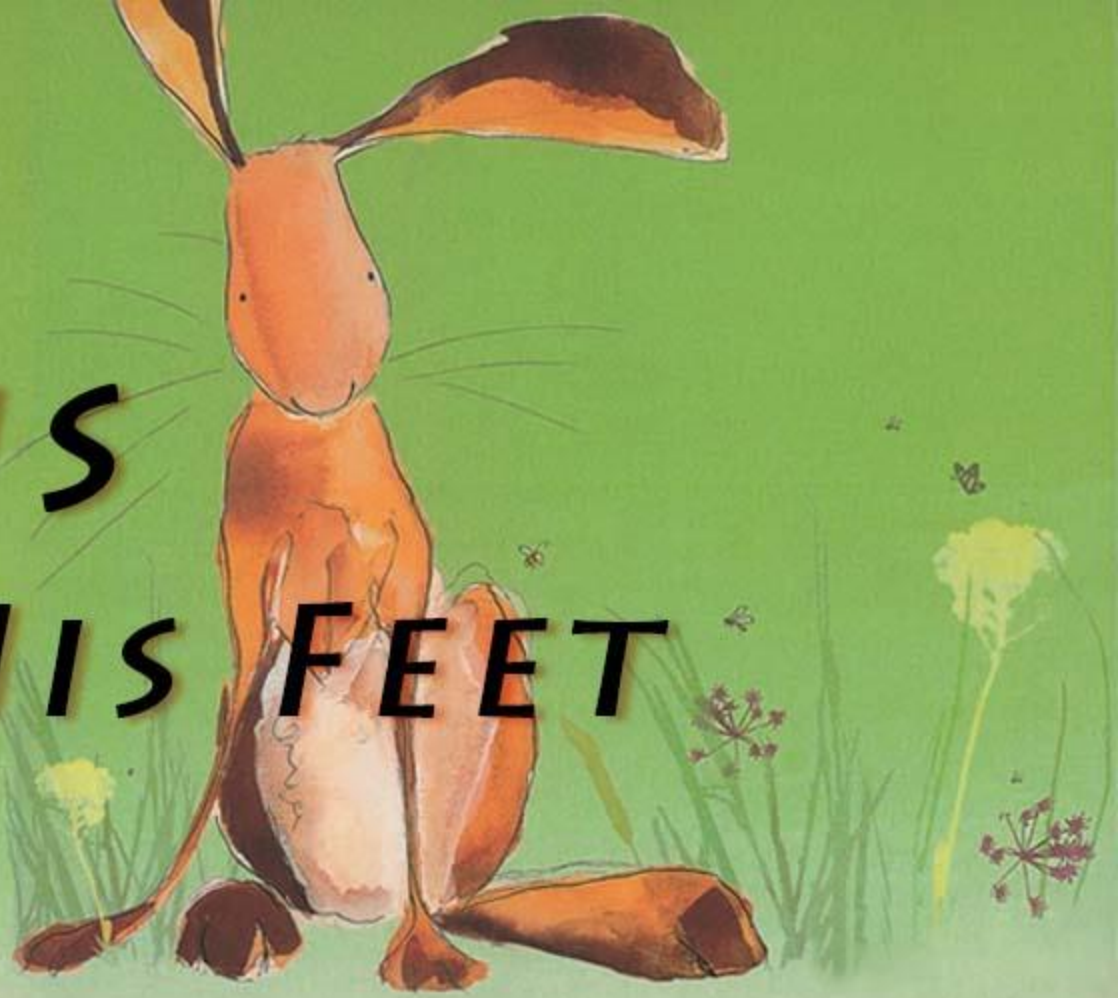
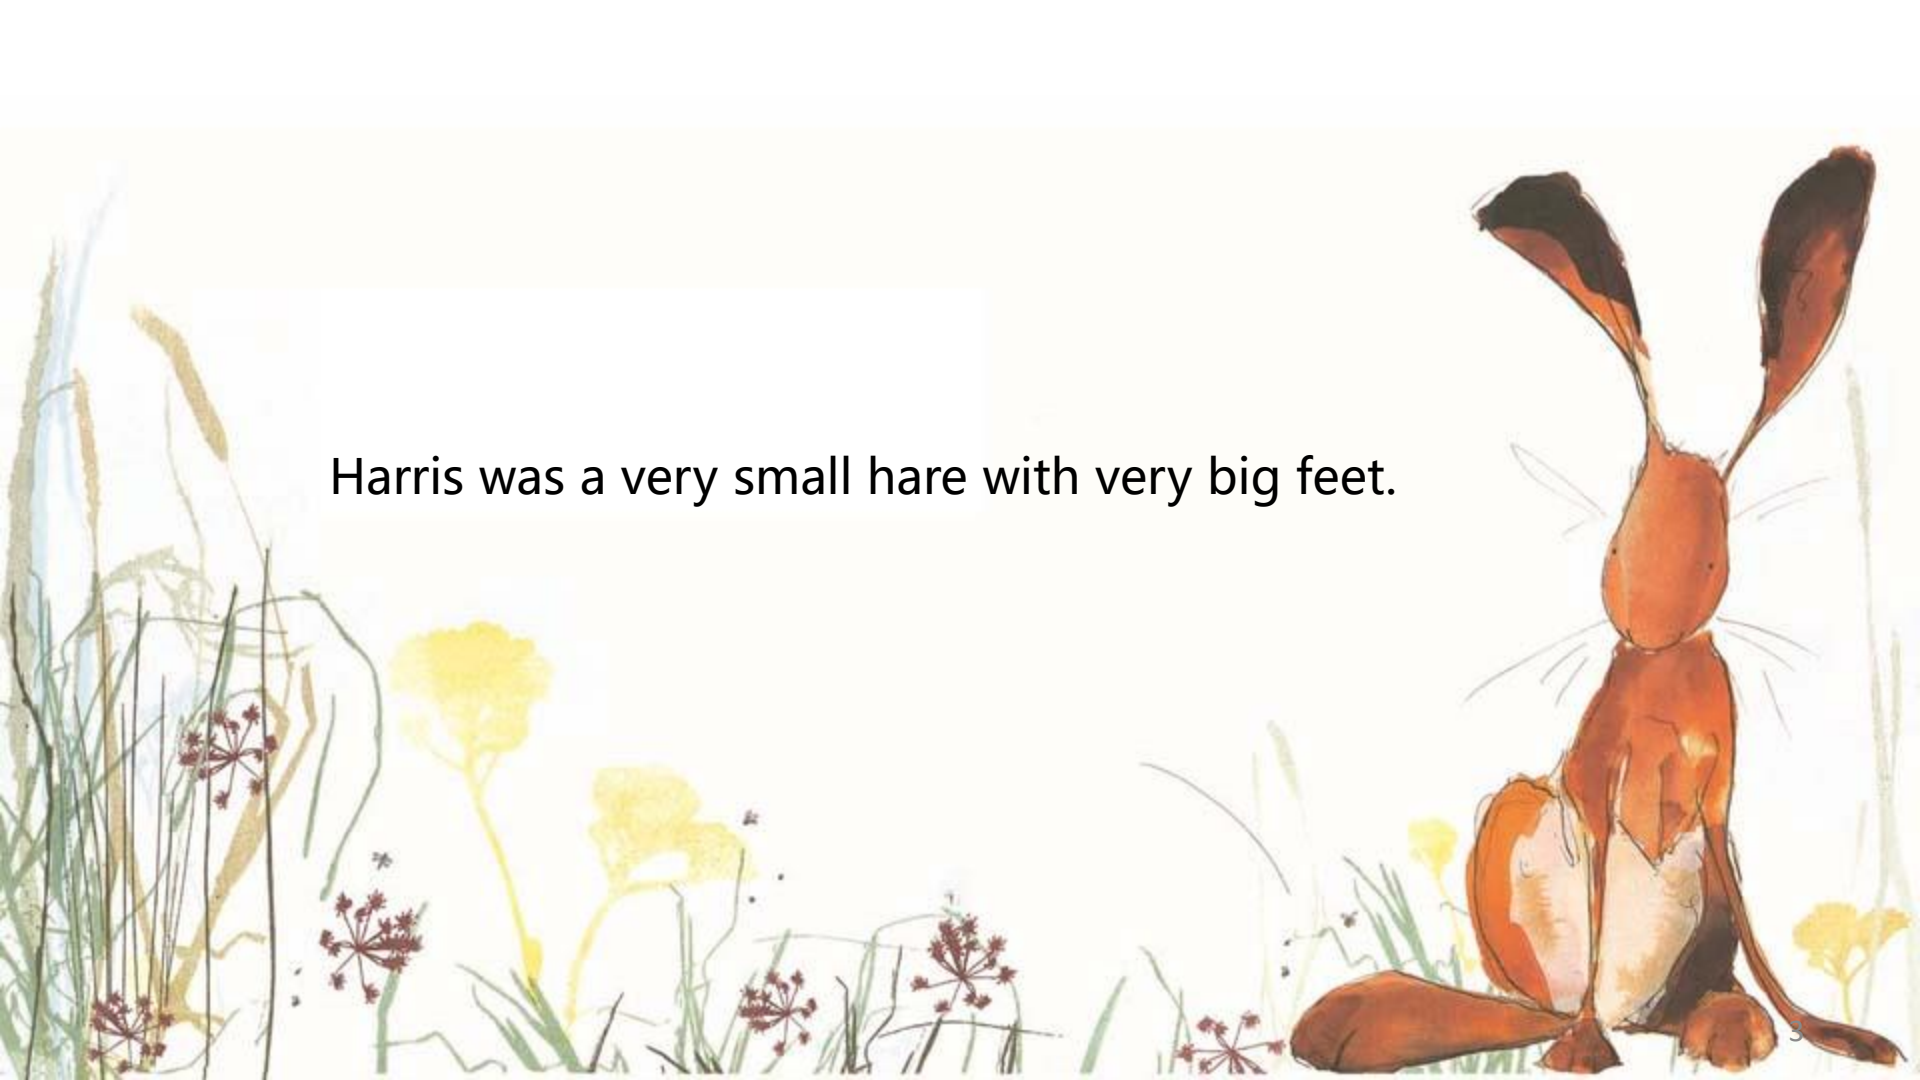
Day 15

CATHERINE RAYNER

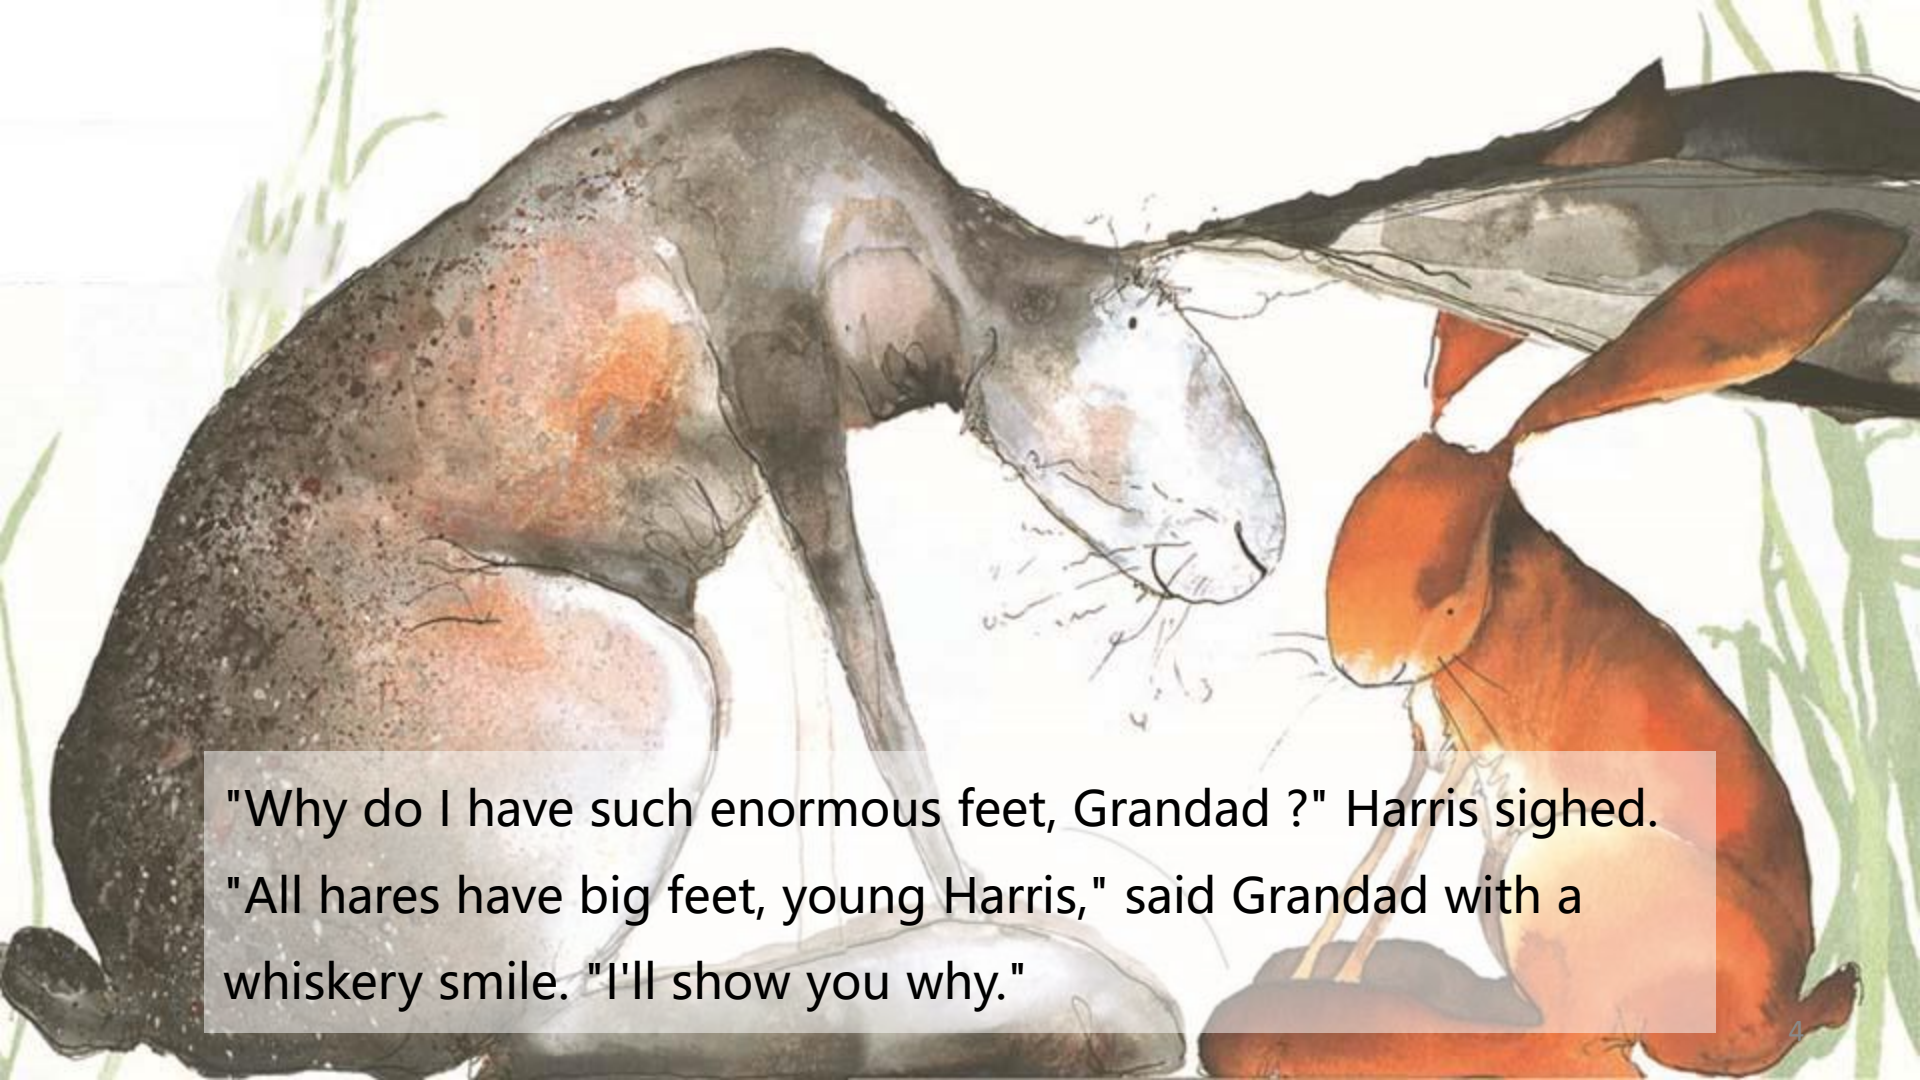
HARRIS FINDS HIS FEET



小兔子哈里有一双大脚，于是就疑问，我为什么和别人不一样，为什么有一双这么大的脚呢？ 爷爷让哈里认识到大脚可以跳向天空，越过高山，跑的飞快~

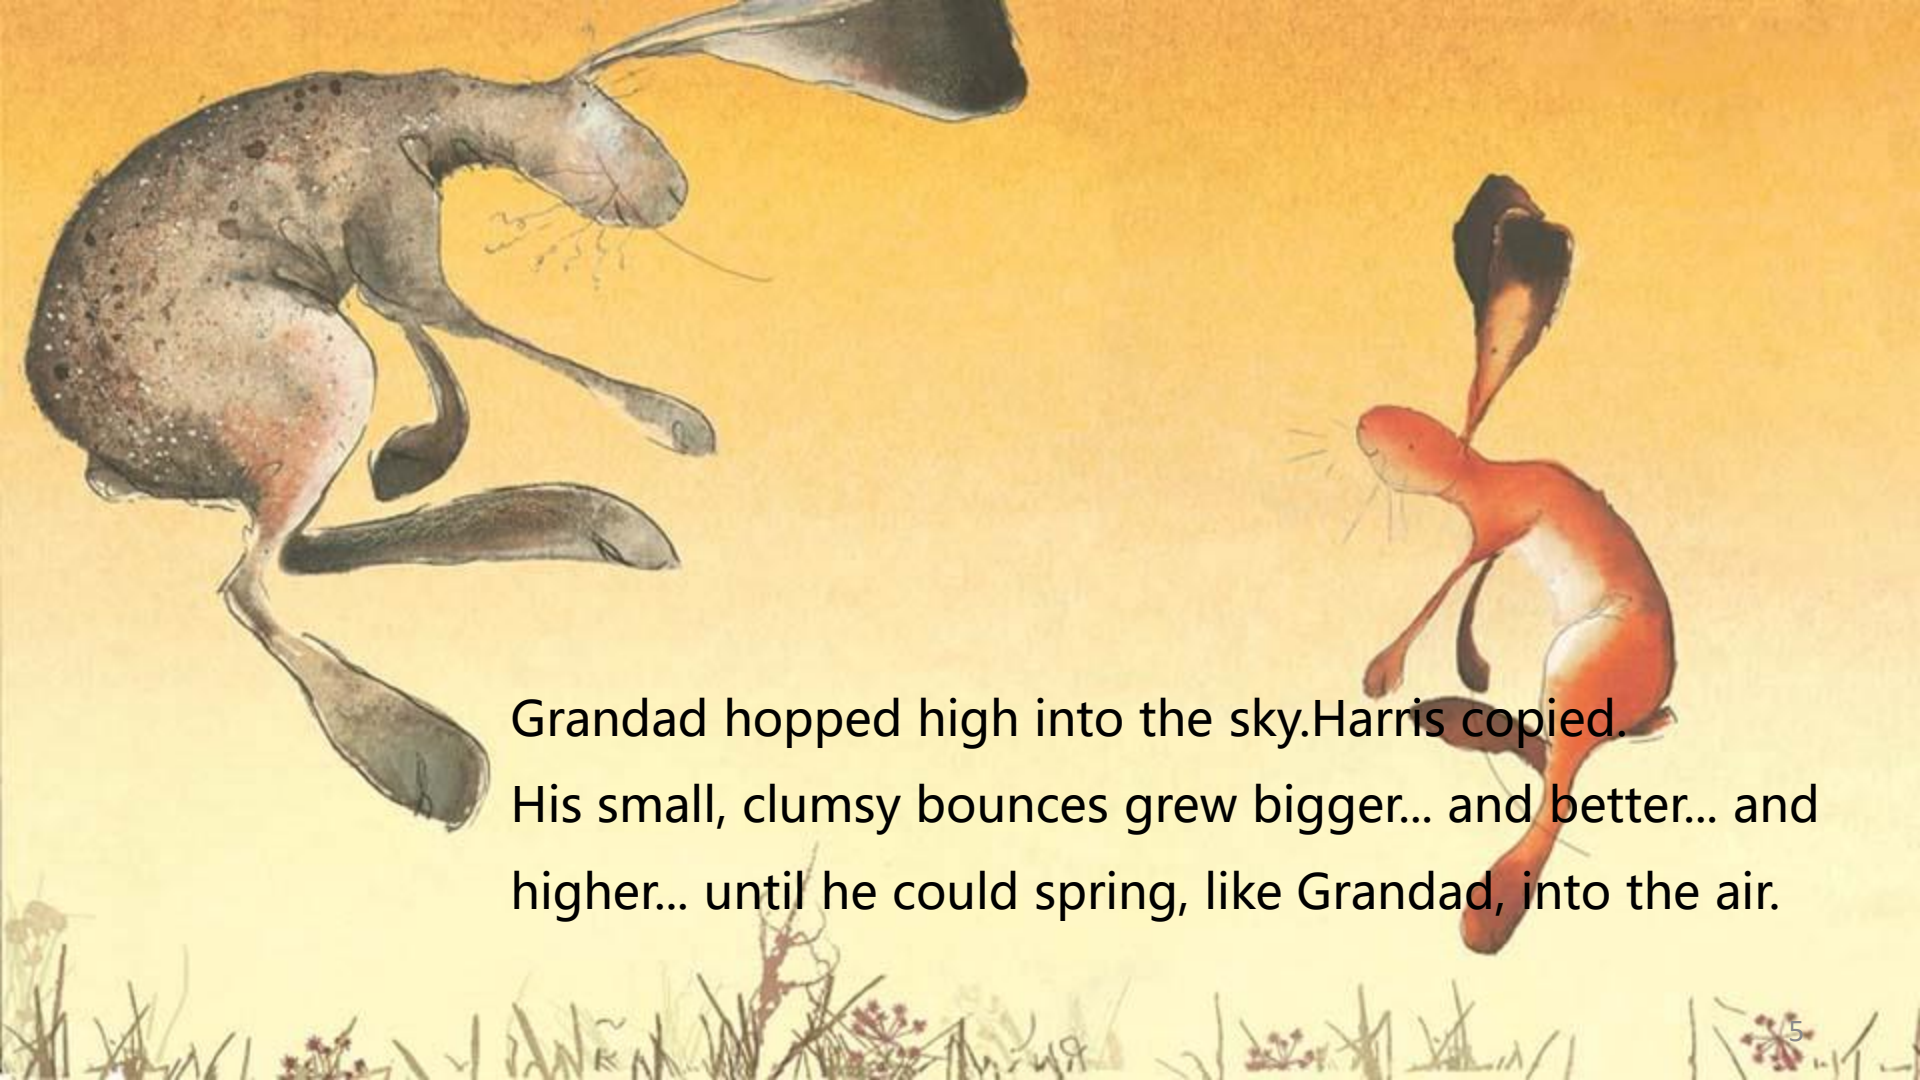


Harris was a very small hare with very big feet.

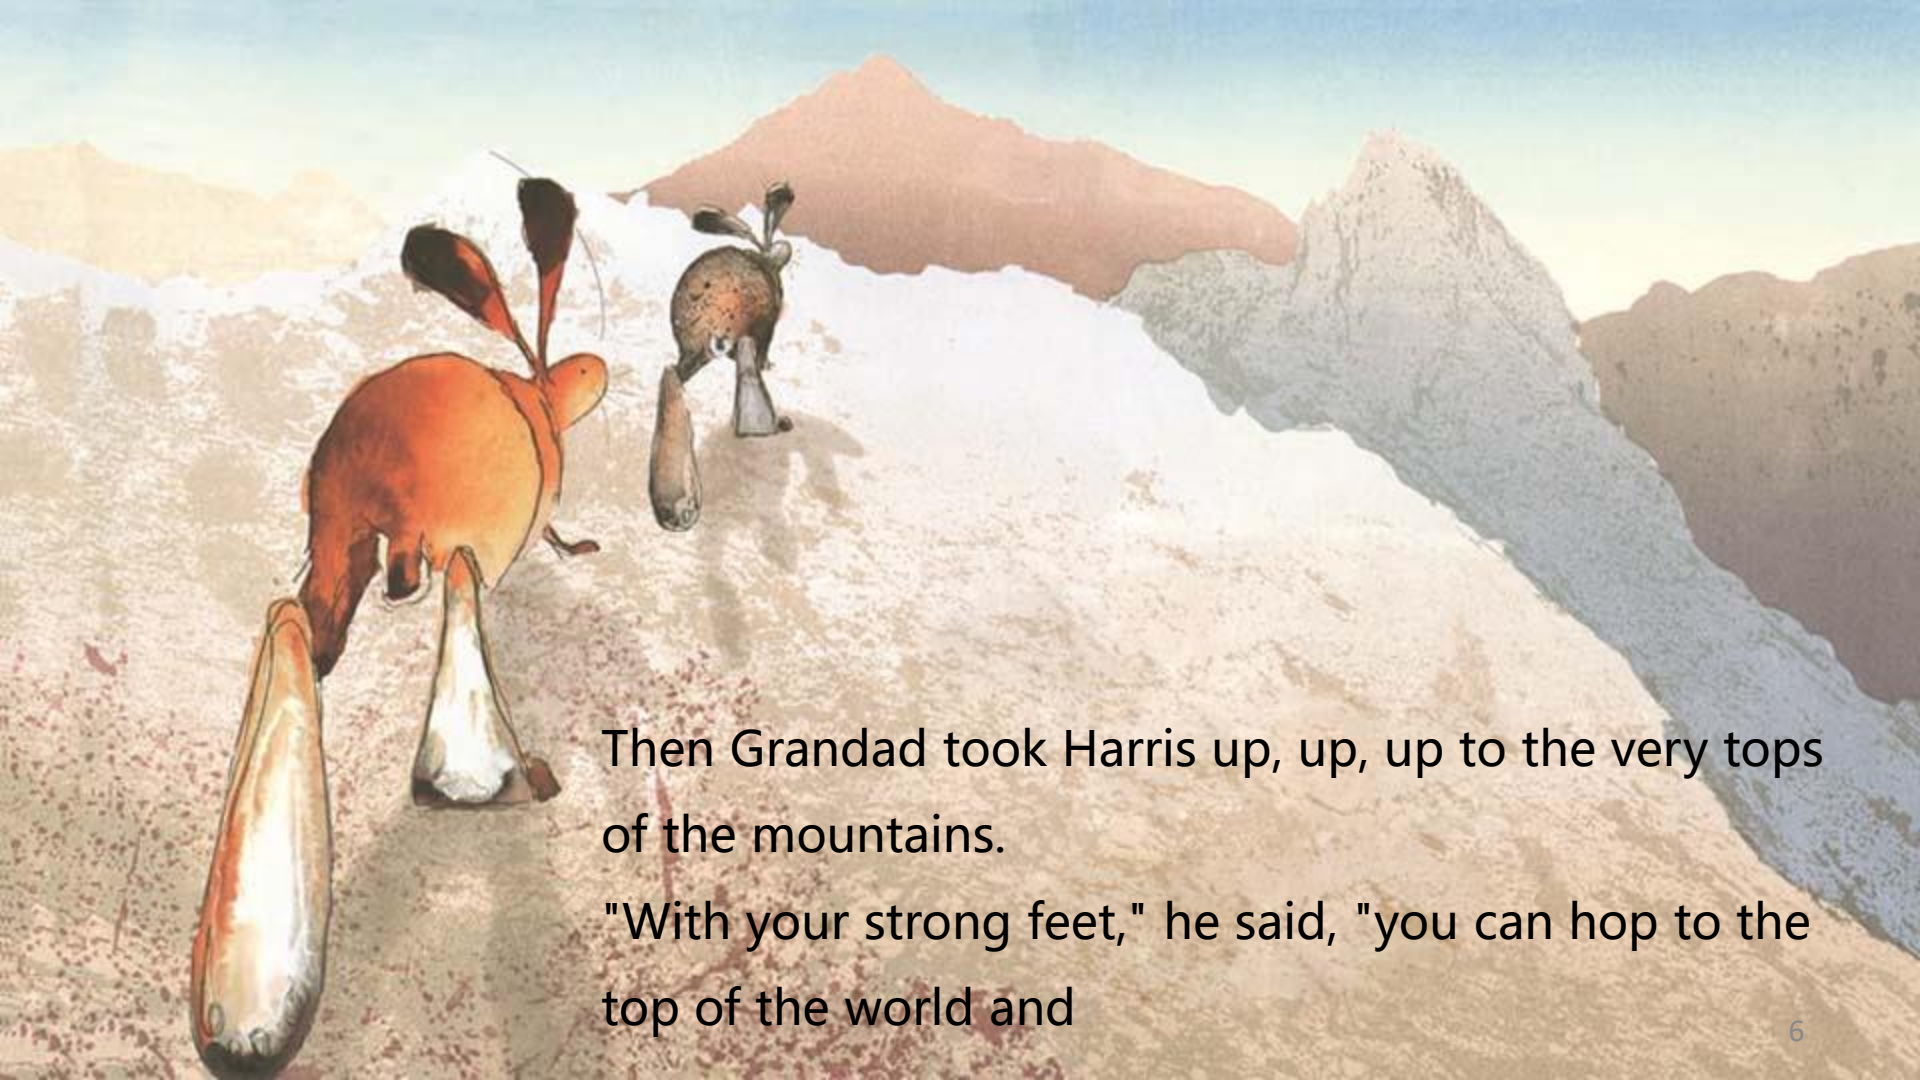


"Why do I have such enormous feet, Grandad ?" Harris sighed.

"All hares have big feet, young Harris," said Grandad with a whiskery smile. "I'll show you why."



Grandad hopped high into the sky.Harris copied.
His small, clumsy bounces grew bigger... and better... and higher... until he could spring, like Grandad, into the air.



Then Grandad took Harris up, up, up to the very tops of the mountains.

"With your strong feet," he said, "you can hop to the top of the world and look out where the birds fly, as the wind tickles your whiskers."

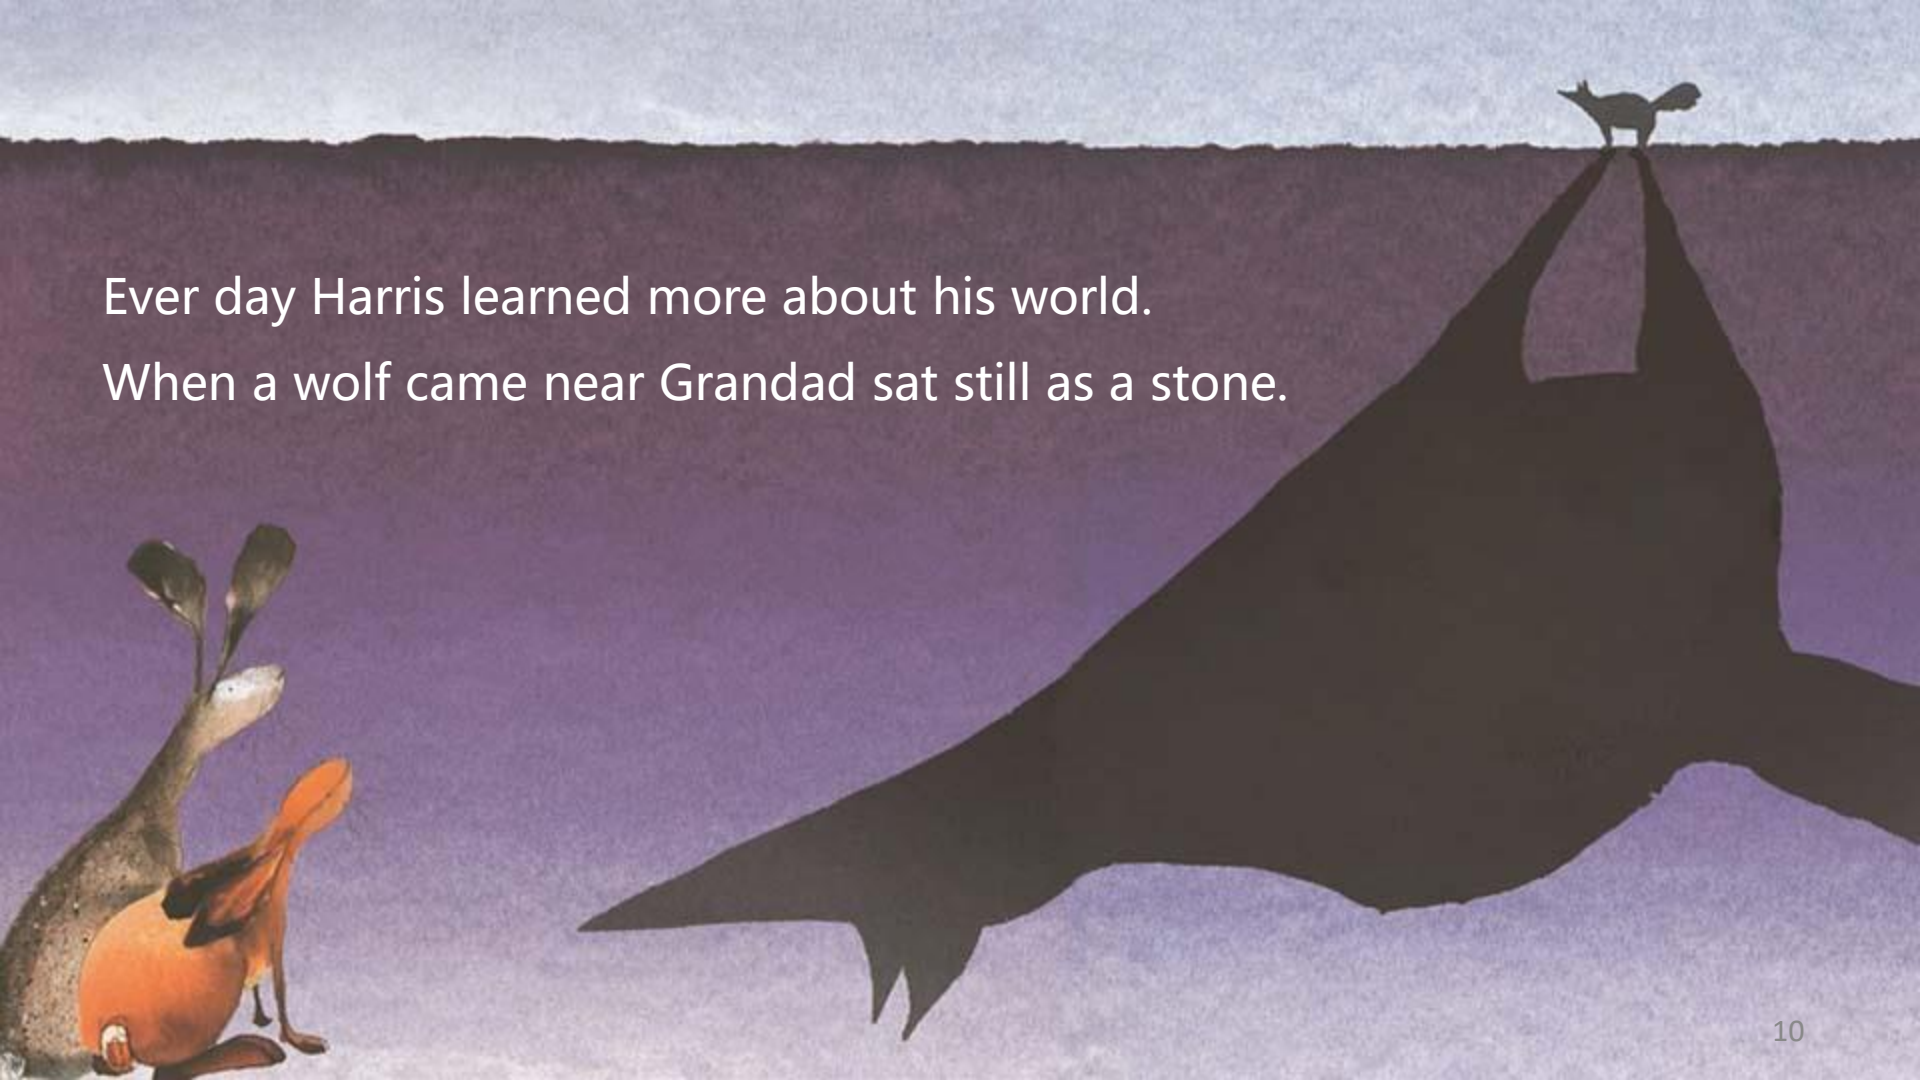
Grandad showed Harris all the best things. Like how to dig a cool resting place in the earth when the days were hot.

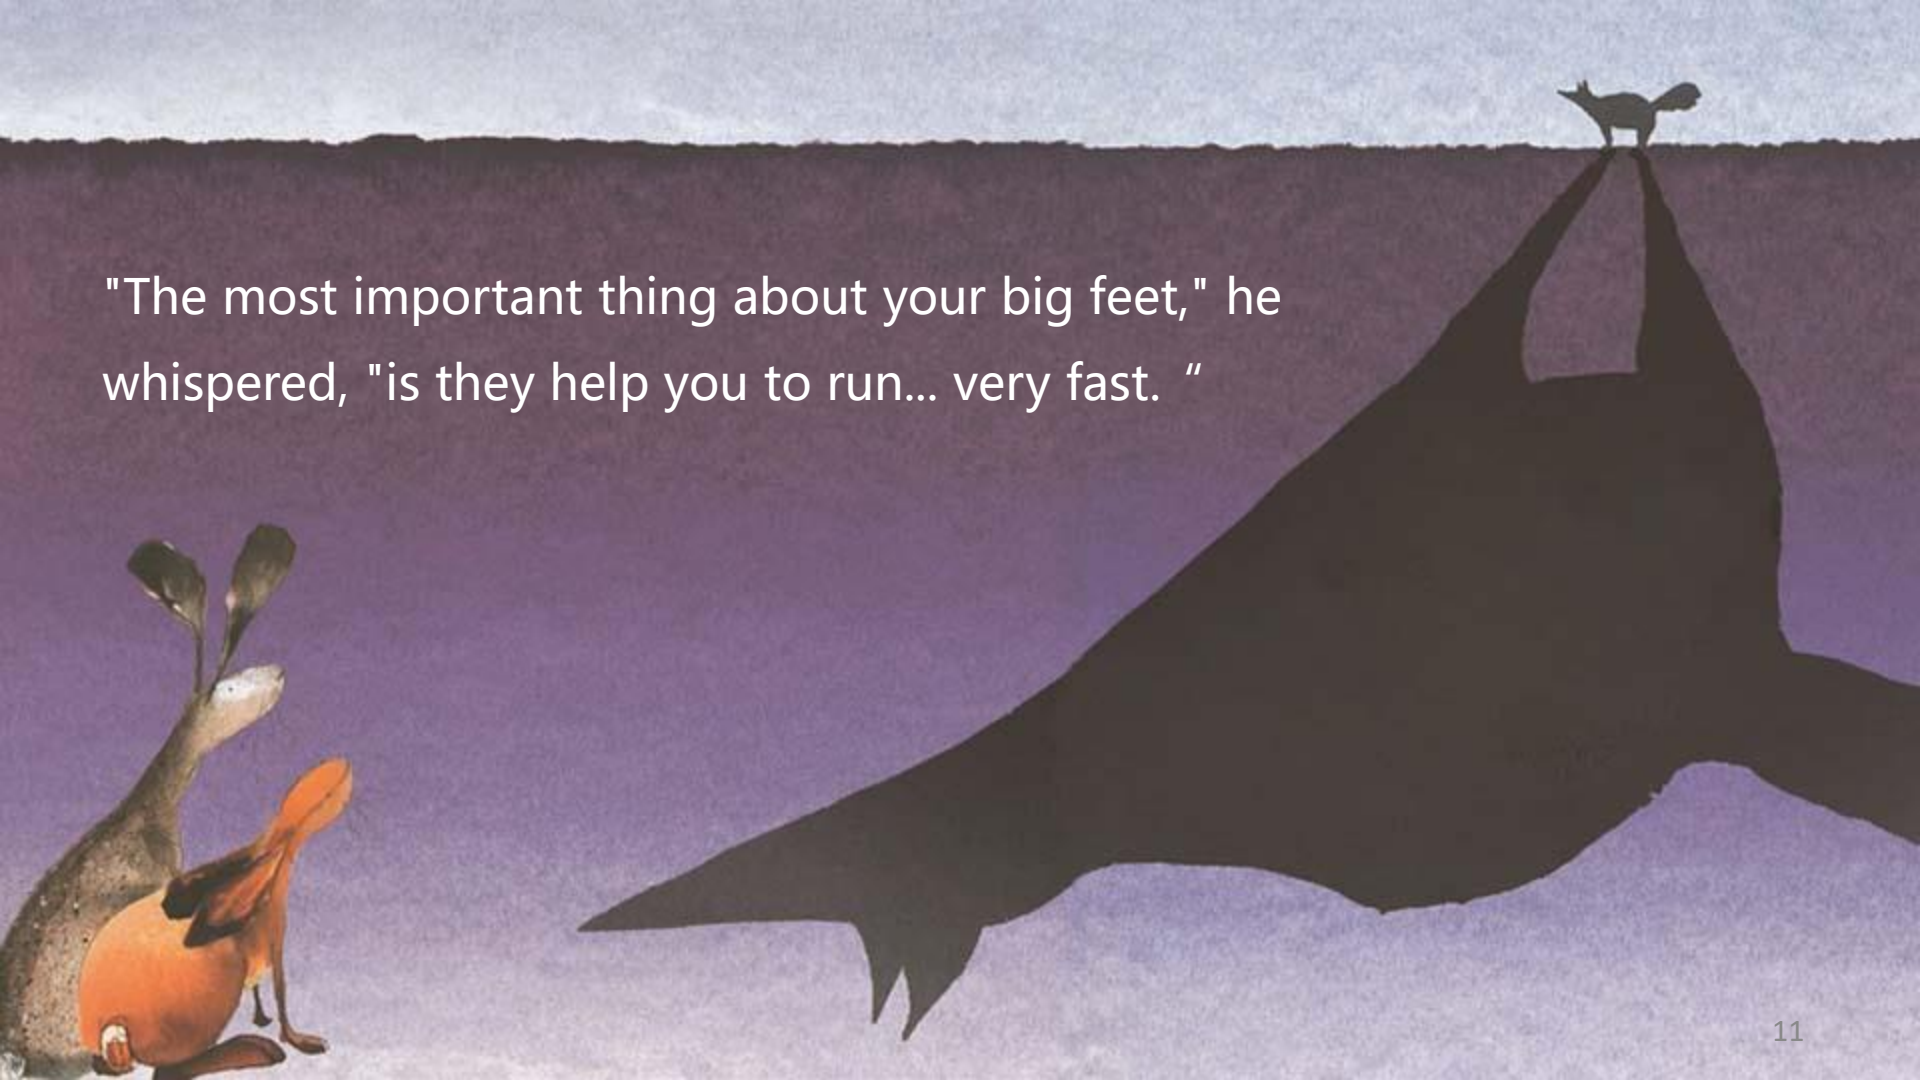
They stretched out together, through long, lazy afternoons, listening to the insects buzzing and humming around them.

"Look, Grandad!" Harris said. "My feet can shade me from the sun!"



Ever day Harris learned more about his world.

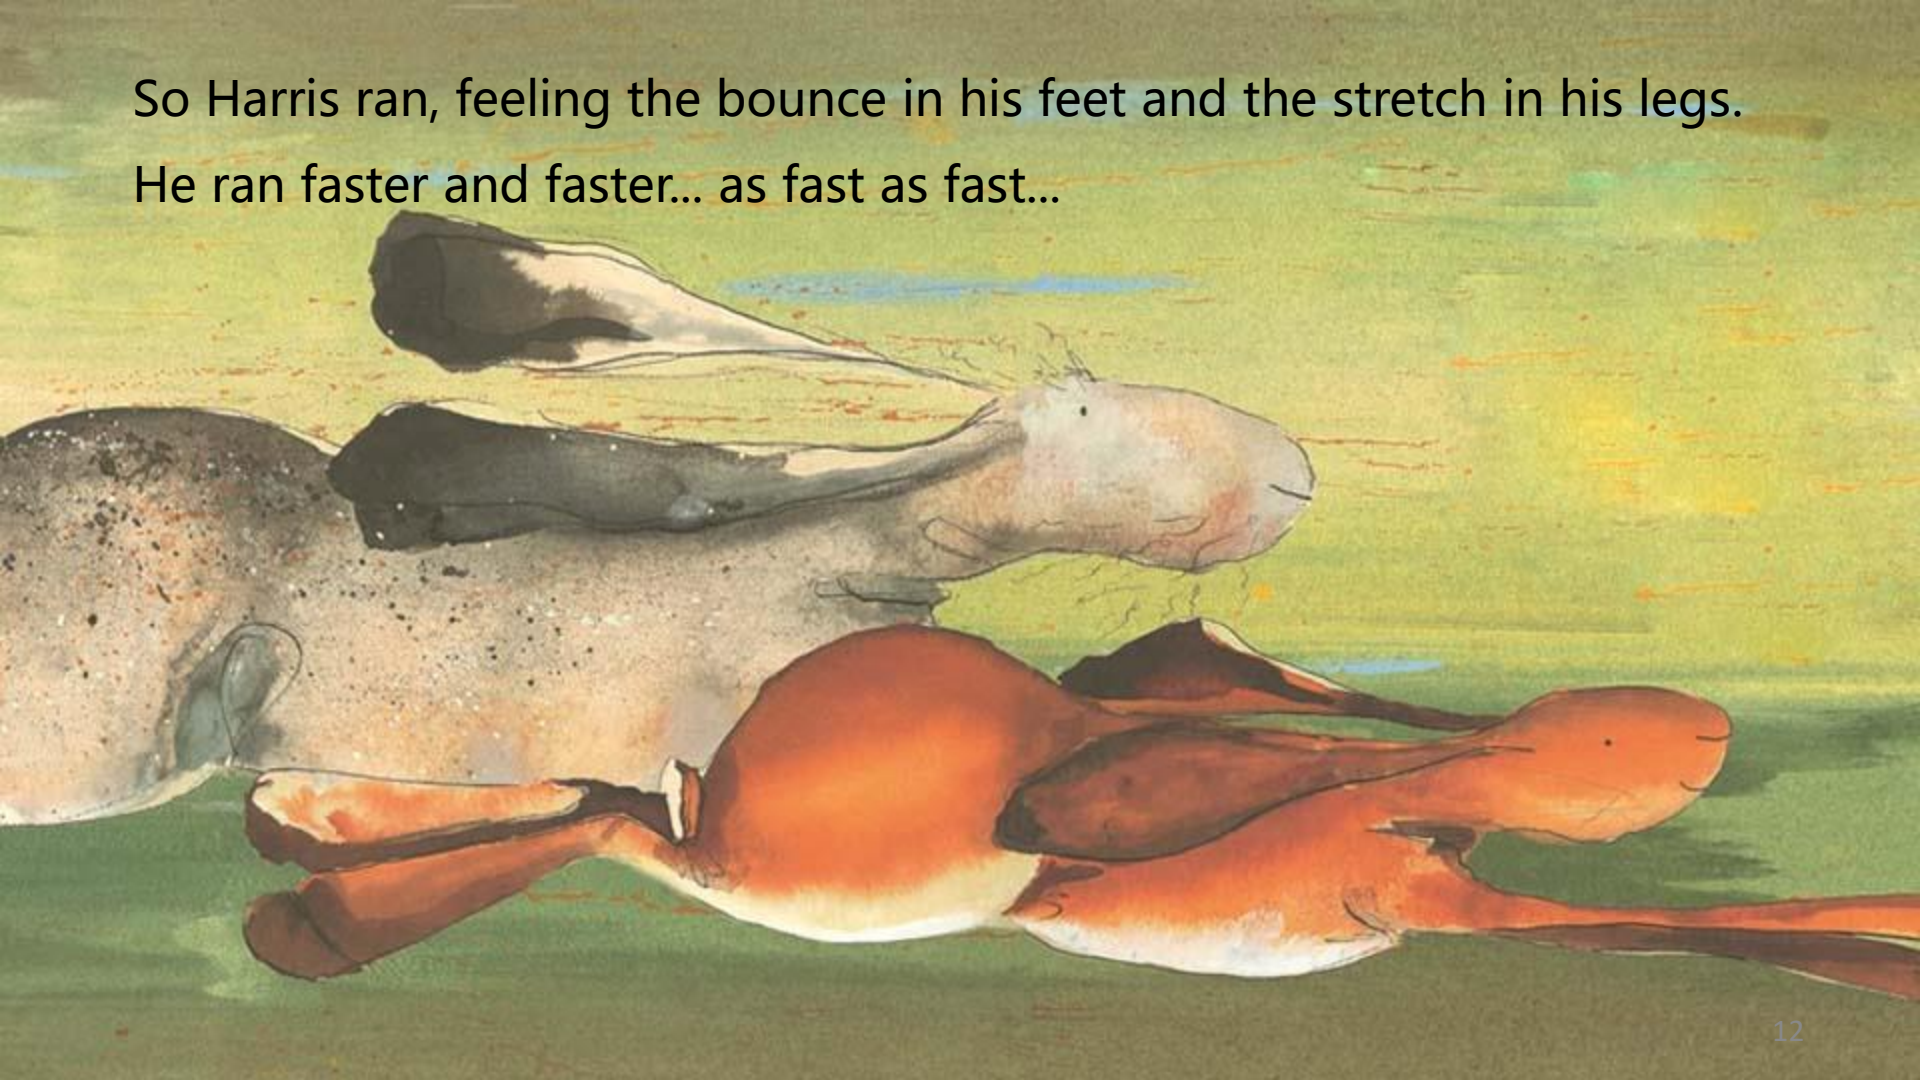
When a wolf came near Grandad sat still as a stone.



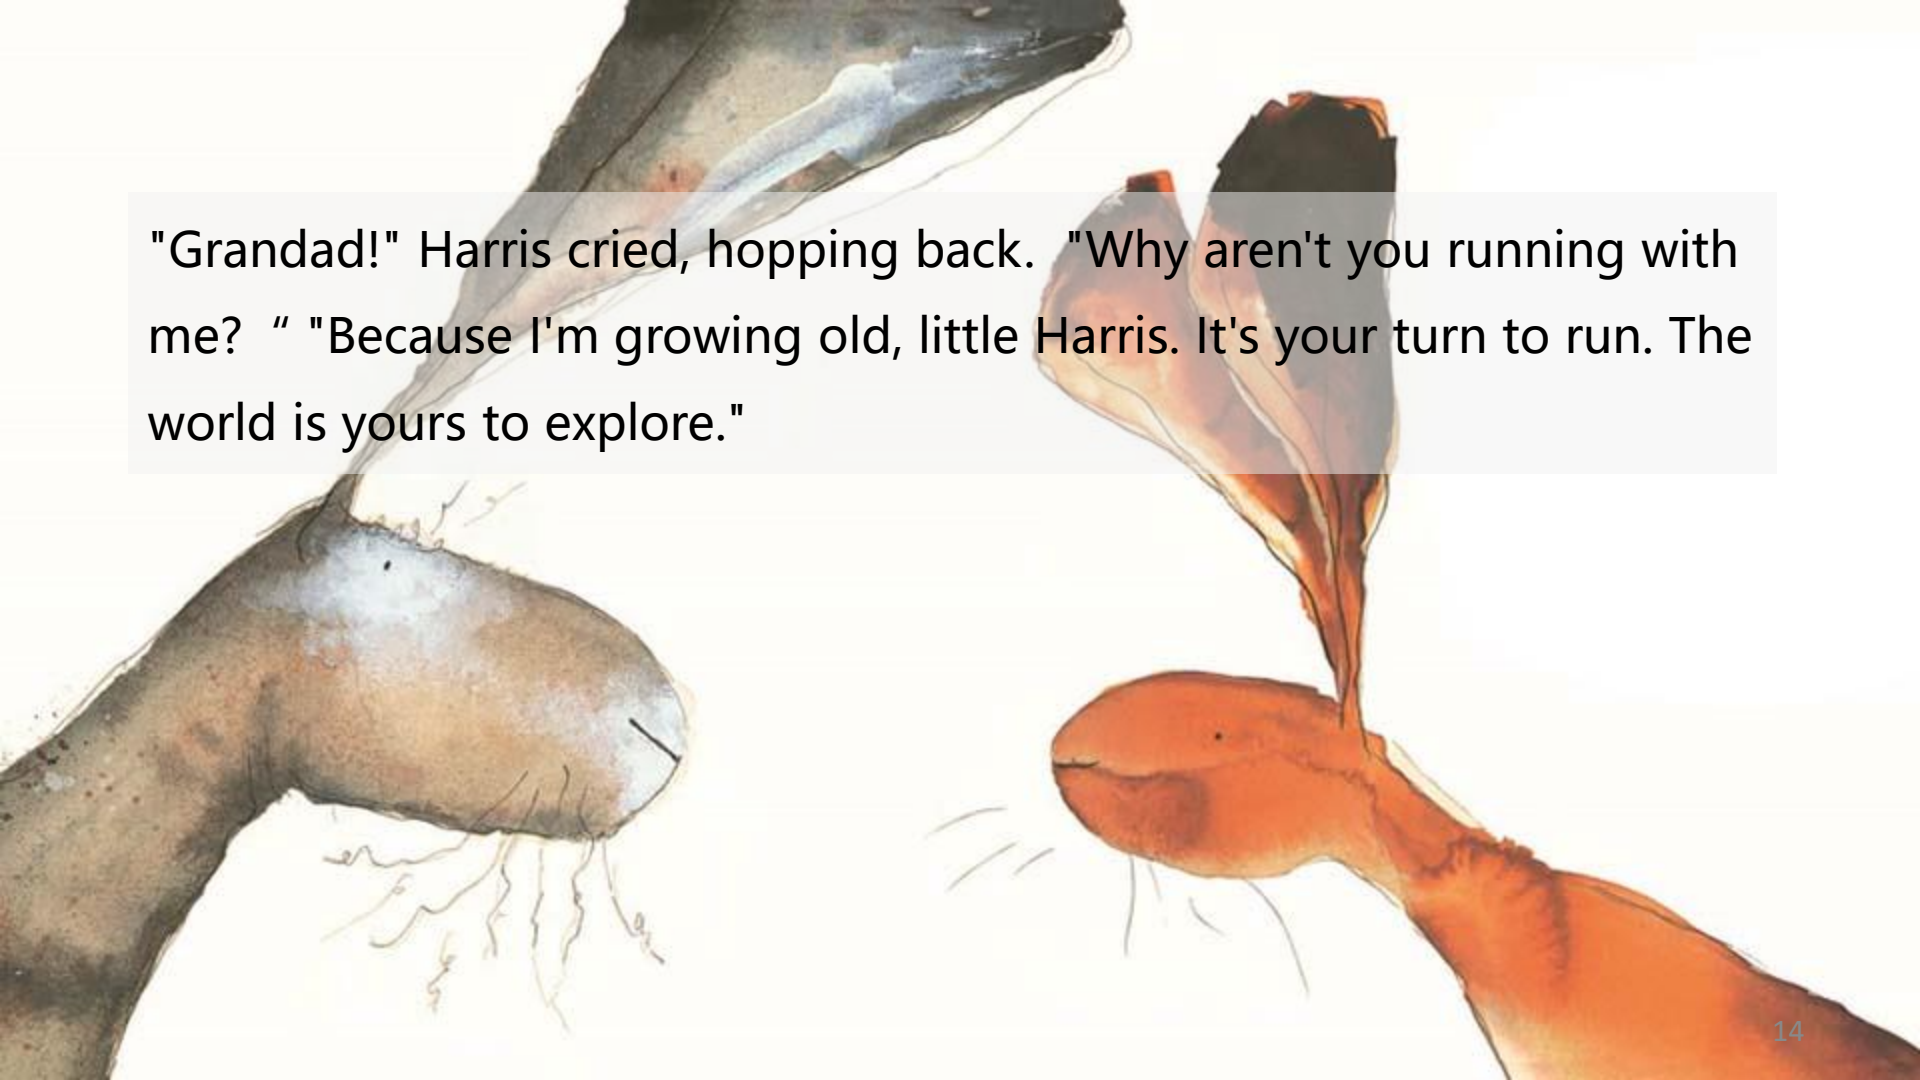
"The most important thing about your big feet," he whispered, "is they help you to run... very fast. “

So Harris ran, feeling the bounce in his feet and the stretch in his legs.

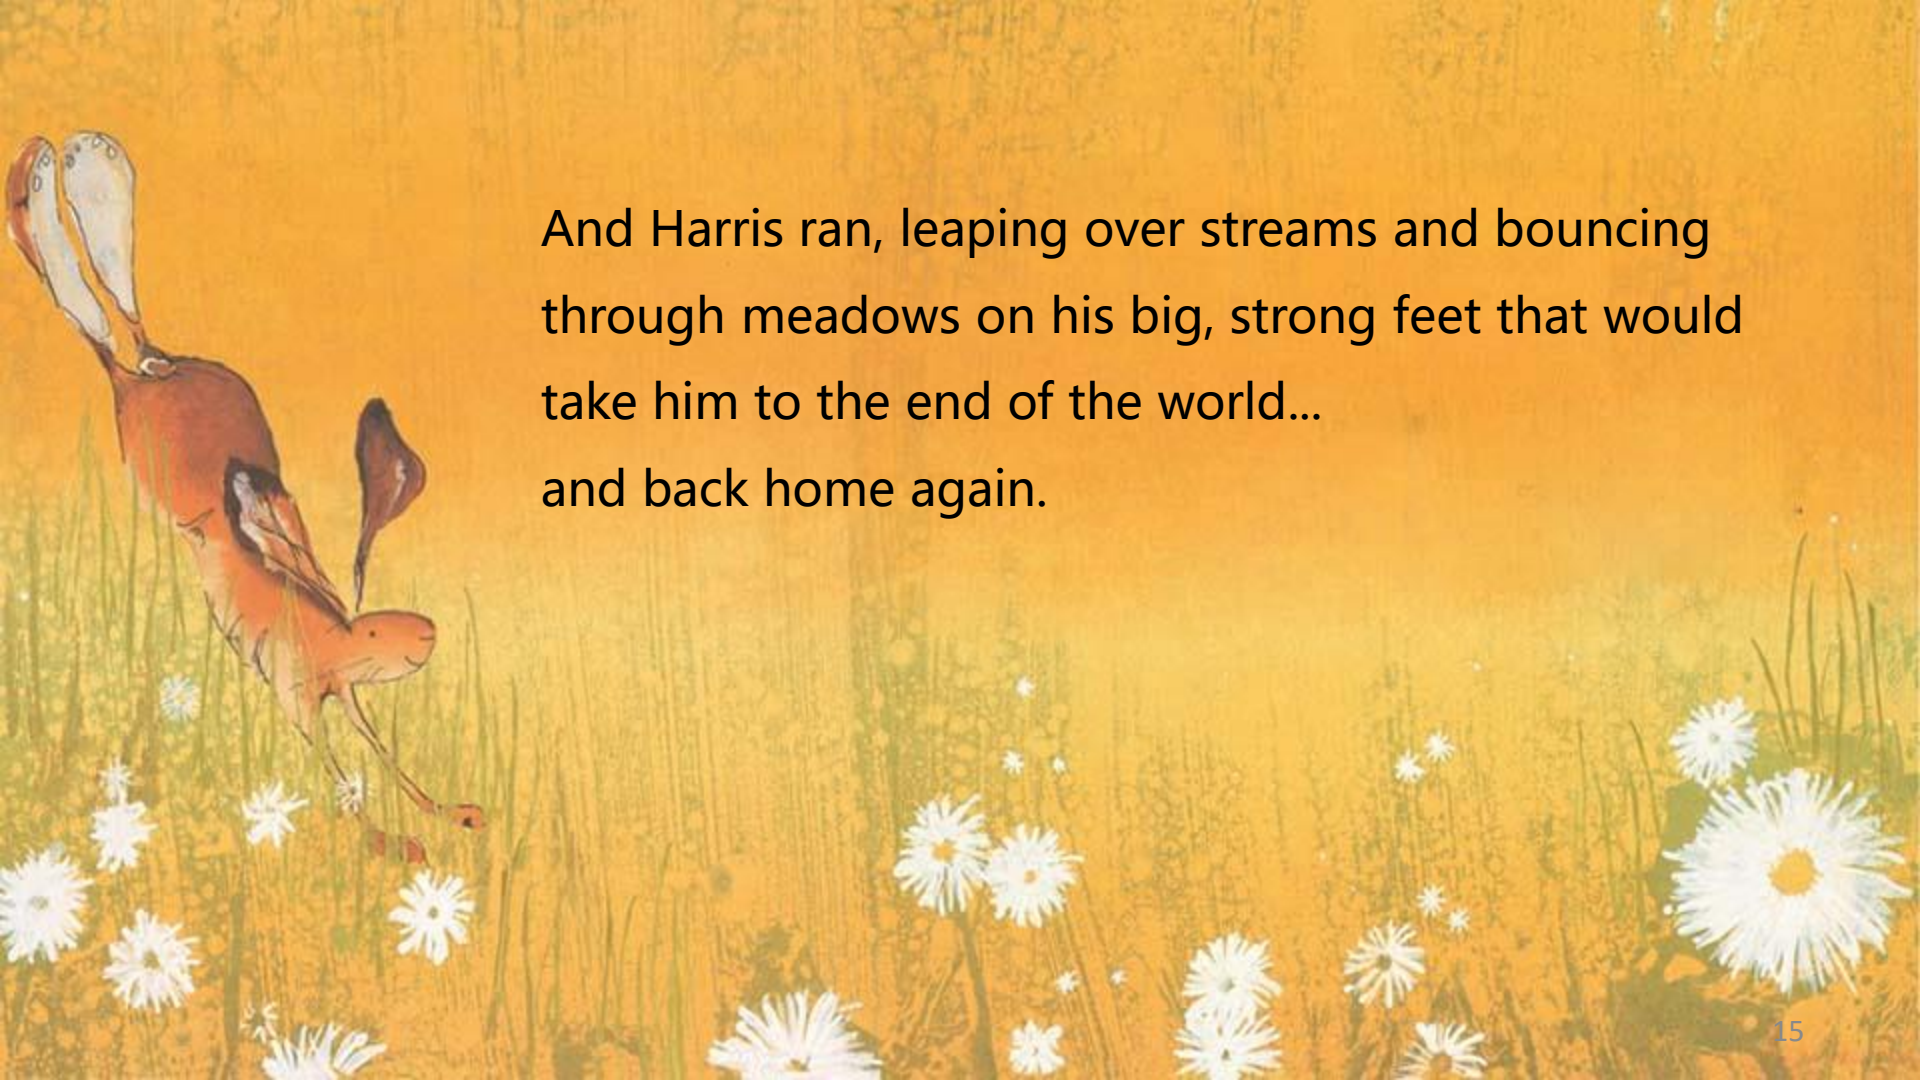
He ran faster and faster... as fast as fast...



until...he was on his own.



"Grandad!" Harris cried, hopping back. "Why aren't you running with me? " "Because I'm growing old, little Harris. It's your turn to run. The world is yours to explore."



And Harris ran, leaping over streams and bouncing through meadows on his big, strong feet that would take him to the end of the world...
and back home again.

Harris was a very small hare with very big feet.
哈里是一只小兔子,可它却长了一双大脚。

"Why do I have such enormous feet, Grandad?" Harris sighed.
“为什么我有一双这么大的脚呢，爷爷？”哈里小声地问。

"All hares have big feet, young Harris," said Grandad with a whiskery smile. "I'll show you why."
“所有的野兔都有大脚，小哈里，”爷爷微笑着回答。“让我来告诉你为什么吧。”

Grandad hopped high into the sky.
爷爷跳起来,它被弹到高高的天上。
Harris copied.
哈里也学着爷爷的样子跳。

His small, clumsy bounces grew bigger… and better… and higher… until he could spring, like Grandad, into the air.
他跳的不高, 样子也很笨拙,不过, 慢慢地它跳的越来越高,越来越好，直到他能像爷爷一样跳起来, 跳到了到天上。

Then Grandad took Harris up, up, up to the very tops of the mountains.
然后，爷爷带着哈里跳呀跳呀, 一直跳来了山顶上。

"With your strong feet," he said, "you can hop to the top of the world and “用你的大脚，”他说，“甚至能跳到世界之巅…”

look out where the birds fly, as the wind tickles your whiskers."
“……看到鸟儿飞去了哪里，还有风轻轻挠你的胡子。”

Grandad showed Harris all the best things. Like how to dig a cool resting place in the earth when the days were hot.
爷爷给哈里一一展示了大脚的好处。比如, 天热的时候，怎样用大脚在地上挖一个凉快的洞用来休息。

They stretched out together, through long, lazy afternoons, listening to the insects buzzing and humming around them.
他们尽情伸展开身体, 整个长长的懒洋洋的下午，都在倾听着周围的虫子嗡嗡嘤嘤地歌唱。

"Look, Grandad!" Harris said. "My feet can shade me from the sun!"
“看，爷爷！”哈里说。“我的脚能挡住太阳呢！”

Ever day Harris learned more about his world.
每天哈里都能学到更多的东西。

When a wolf came near Grandad sat still as a stone.
"The most important thing about your big feet," he whispered, "is they help you to run... very fast."
一只狼靠近了，爷爷还坐在那儿, 平静地像块石头。“你的大脚最大的用处是,，”爷爷轻声说，“帮你跑, 飞快地跑”。

So Harris ran, feeling the bounce in his feet and the stretch in his legs. He ran faster and faster... as fast as fast...
于是,哈里跑啊跑啊, 它得脚很有弹性, 它的腿也拉得很直, 它跑得越来越快, 尽可能地快,

until...he was on his own.
直到最后只剩下了它自己。

"Grandad!" Harris cried, hopping back. "Why aren't you running with me?"
“爷爷！”哈里叫起来，它跑回去。“为什么你不跟我一起跑呢？”

"Because I'm growing old, little Harris. It's your turn to run. The world is yours to explore."
“因为我老了，小哈里。 现在该轮到你跑了，这世界是你的了。”

And Harris ran, leaping over streams and bouncing through meadows on his big, strong feet that would take him to the end of the world... and back home again.
哈里跑啊跑啊， 他跃过小河，跳过草地，用他那大大的，很有力的脚，那双能将他带到世界的尽头的大脚...当然它的大脚还会带它回到家里。
